Faces . . .

Faces of friendship caution impatience . . .

... precision, ideality ...

The spiritual-prescient face . . .
The always welcome,
common, benevolent face . . .

The pure extravagant . . .
Yearning, questioning artist's face

The face of an amour and the face of challenge . . .
The face of an immobile rock . . .

The face of a dream . . .
The face withdrawn of its good and bad

We see them all and complain not
and are content with all . . .

To think of time — of all that retrospection,

To think of to-day, and the ages continued henceforward.

Have you guess'd you yourself would not continue?
Have you dreaded these earth-beetles?
Have you fear'd the future would be nothing to you?
Is to-day nothing? is the beginningless past nothing?
If the future is nothing they are just as surely nothing.
To think that the sun rose in the east—that men and women were flexible, real, alive—that everything was alive,
To think that you and I did not see, feel, think, nor bear our part,
To think that we are now here and bear our part.

— Walt Whitman
